

COOKIE POLICY:

1. The only information the website collects automatically is the information in the cookie files.
2. Cookies are text files which are stored in the terminal device of the website user. They are used for the purpose of browsing the website. The most important information they contain is the name of the internet website of their origin, a unique number and the time for which they are stored on the terminal device.
3. The website operator (Impex Stahl) is an entity which places cookies on the user's terminal device and has access to such files.
4. The website operator uses cookies to:
 - customise the website content to individual preferences of the user; most importantly, cookies recognise the user's device to display the website according to his preferences;
 - prepare statistics helping us to learn about user preferences and behaviours; the data is analysed anonymously and allows us to adapt the contents and appearance of the website to current trends; statistics are also used to assess the popularity of the website;
 - make it possible to log into the website;
 - keep the user logged on each individual webpage.
5. The website uses two basic types of cookies – session cookies and persistent cookies. Session cookies are temporary and are stored until the user leaves the website (by moving on to another website, logging out or closing the browser). Persistent cookies are stored on the user's terminal device until they are removed by the user or for the time defined in their settings.
6. The user may change the settings of his browser at any time to disable cookies or receive information each time cookies are placed on his computer. You can check other available options in the settings of your browser. Please remember that most browsers are set to allow cookies to be stored on the terminal device by default.
7. Please bear in mind that changes to the settings of the user's browser may restrict access to some functions of the website.
8. The cookies used by the website (placed on the user's terminal device) may be made available to our partners and cooperating advertisers.
9. Information about Internet browser settings is available in the browser's menu (help) or on the website of its producer.
